Executive Services Group Opens New York City Office

Conshohocken, PA-based wealth and lifestyle management adds Manhattan location

Conshohocken, PA, June 2, 2009 - Executive Services Group (ESG), a regional provider of wealth and lifestyle management services, has opened a New York City office.

The company's increase in clients residing in New York City provided the impetus for the decision to open an office in Manhattan. The new office is located at 1230 Avenue of the Americas.

Tim Burns, founder and President of ESG, explains, "ESG's client base has expanded from serving the ultra-wealthy living in the greater Philadelphia area to now include similar individuals and families residing in New York City and in Florida. And since our service offerings are by definition both advisory and personal, it is important that our staff of Resource Managers is able to sit down and meet with our clients on a regular basis. The Manhattan office will facilitate these weekly and monthly client meetings."

ESG is projecting the opening of an office in West Palm Beach, FL later in 2009.
